The China Education Symposium at Harvard University has a history spanning over a decade and is recognized as both a rigorously organized nonprofit conference and a registered student organization within the Harvard Graduate School of Education. Celebrating 15 years of impactful engagement, the symposium is recognized as a premier platform for facilitating global dialogues on education, innovation, and cross-cultural collaborations. This annual event aims to connect education practitioners, scholars, policymakers, and leaders from China, the US, and across the globe. Its goal is to foster cutting-edge academic discussions in education, encourage the exchange of ideas, showcase achievements, and advance educational practices

In the past, we were privileged to welcome numerous insightful speakers, including Kevin Rudd, Former Prime Minister of Australia; William Kirby, former director of the Fairbank Center for Chinese Studies at Harvard University and T.M. Chang Professor of China Studies; Ezra Vogel, Henry Ford II Professor of the Social Sciences at Harvard University and author of 'Deng Xiaoping and the Transformation of China'; Zhu Yongxin, Vice Chairman of the China Association for Promoting Democracy; Michelle Wu, Mayor of Boston; and Shan Jixiang, Former Director of the Palace Museum. As we celebrate the 15th year of the symposium, we are proud to continue spearheading new educational explorations and delivering cross-cultural educational content to hundreds of thousands of audiences worldwide.
